

Lalattia Farewell Dialogue

- Do you have another quest for me?
 - o I've been meaning to speak with you about this for some time...I ~~have reason to~~ believe that my time as Oracle is coming to an end.
- What do you mean?
 - o After you returned the last artifact, I was overcome with a deep sense of wholeness. It was unlike anything I've ever felt.
 - o Since then, my visions have dimmed. I can no longer understand the revelations that were once so clear to me.
- Why do you think that is?
 - o I think the Divines are telling me that I ~~must seek out a new purpose~~. In fact, I must learn to be more like you.
 - o Before, I would have been devastated by the loss of my divine sight. But now ~~that it's gone~~, I feel like a shroud has been lifted from my eyes.
- Will you be alright? / What will you do now?
 - o ~~You see~~; After Linus died, I isolated myself from the others. I felt that I had failed them.
 - o So I buried myself in my prophecies. I ~~abandoned the real world for the spiritual one, and allowed precious moments to pass me by~~.
 - o ~~You've helped me to realize~~ that I must confront the world again. I do not need the gift of prophecy to walk in the path of the Nine.
- I wish you the best.
 - o ~~+~~Thank you, truly. You have shown me what it means to be a true servant of the Divines.
 - o Through my actions, I can be a testament to their infinite love and grace. ~~Perhaps~~ this is my true purpose.
 - o I do not believe I ~~will see you again~~. But I sincerely thank you for all that you have done.
 - Not sure if she disappears after the farewell; if not, this change should be removed
- So, on to the next chapter? (Nerevarine)
 - o Indeed. I ~~equally~~ look forward to ~~hearing of~~ your future adventures, Nerevarine. ~~Perhaps in song~~.
- So, on to the next chapter? (not yet Nerevarine)
 - o Indeed. I ~~equally~~ look forward to ~~hearing of~~ your future adventures, my friend. I don't need the Divines to see the air of fate about you.
